

It's Christmas time

OLIVIA FORSHAW
Graphic Designer

The publications section's staff recently attended a forum meeting in Swellendam. After a few hours of presentations, the librarians in attendance got to get their hands dirty making Christmas displays. Here are some of the results.

Some pretty amazing displays were produced in a very short space of time and with limited resources. Hats off to all the librarians for their efforts and their willingness to participate. Thank you!

CL